Students are responsible for arranging an internship in conjunction with the English Undergraduate Office and an on-site internship supervisor. Applications for venues not currently on record with the English Undergraduate Office must be reviewed and voted on by the Undergraduate Committee.

To receive 3 hours of general elective credit, an internship includes academic work similar to work in an upper-level English class, as well as an academic final project guided by a faculty member in English. Students must gain approval from the Undergraduate Committee. In order to allow time for the approval process, students should begin planning early in the term preceding that in which they want to earn academic credit for the internship. Credit for internships will count as general academic credit; it does not count as required coursework within the major.
